In today's highly competitive environment, the interpersonal skill is an unavoidable factor which has to be seriously discussed. The objective of entrepreneurship skill development program is to enhance the recent business awareness in students. As a part of entrepreneurship club and Department of commerce activity, there is a plan to arrange a one day training program which brings together the skills that students need to learn to succeed in today's business environment. The training module is aimed at the measurement of personal effectiveness with respect to life goals and follow-up. The rationale behind this endeavor is the recognition of multifaceted influence of entrepreneurial capabilities of students.
